METHODS OF OYSTER COOKING.

Theme of Address and Demonstration at Pure Food Show.

Great interest is being manifested in the Washington Pure Food Show, which is being held in the Washington Hotel, corner of 15th and E streets northwest. Although the exhibition was only formally opened Tuesday night, it has already been attended by several thousand persons. The exhibit of food stuffs as displayed by various manufacturers is most interesting. The show is scheduled to continue until February 1. There are two sessions daily, one at 10 a. m. and 7 to 10 p. m., and at both exhibitions there is a fine orchestral concert furnished by selected musicians.
The hall is beautifully decorated with bunting and flags; and myriads of incandescent lights add additional charm to the scene.

An attractive floral display has also been arranged by those having the affair in charge. All of the booths are attractively decorated, and the display of food products.
It is claimed, excels anything ever before attempted in this city. At many of the booths practical demonstrations of cooking are given each afternoon and evening.

Experienced demonstrators give interesting lectures on the preparation of different dishes to tickle the palate of the epicure.
There is a change of cooking each day.
This afternoon oysters were the theme of the address, and various ways to cook the bivalves were demonstrated by experienced chefs. These included scalloped, sauteed, creamed, curried, kee cobbed and oysters a la Neufchatel.

Patrons of the show are allowed not only to inspect, but to taste the prepared food offerings. All of the food is cooked, and most willingly do they avail themselves of the opportunity offered.

Mrs. S. T. Rorer is one of those who give practical demonstrations of how to cook oysters. Mr. George Boyd, who has the management of the affair in charge, stated that its purpose is to educate the public in the art of cooking. He said that when the show was taken into consideration that the present show is the first held in this city in a number of years, the interest displayed both by the exhibitors and those who have thronged the armory at each exhibition is remarkable.

"There has never been a handsomer or more varied exhibit in this city," he said, and I am sure that the present food show will not only prove to be a success in all particulars, but will be productive of good results. Many of the principal manufacturers throughout the country have gone to great expense and trouble in fitting up and decorating their respective booths, and I am sure that their efforts will be more than appreciated, judging from the increased attendance at each session."

THE WORLD OF SOCIETY

SUPREME COURT DINE WITH PRES-IDENT AND MRS. ROOSEVELT.

Yesterday's Receptions and Dinners—
A Wedding—Coming Events—Personal Notes.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt entertained at dinner last night in honor of the Supreme Court. The company, nineteen in all, the largest ever seated in the White House—dined in the east room. The table, somewhat of a crescent in shape, except that the extreme ends did not taper, was elaborately decorated, the tall vases being filled with Liberty roses, and the low plaques, oblong or circular in shape, of mauve blossoms. Corsage bouquets of the red roses, tied in with sprays of fragrant geranium, were at the ladies' places, and red rose boutonnieres for the men.
The sweetmeats conformed in color and pretty arrangement, and the candelabras had red shades. The company assembled in the blue parlor, where Col. Bingham and Commander Cowles made the introductions.
The President escorted Mrs. Fuller to the table and had Mrs. Harlan at his left there.
Mrs. Roosevelt was escorted by the chief justice, with Justice Harlan on her left at table. All the members of the court were present save Justice Brown, whose absence was regretted. The other guests were:
Justice and Mrs. Gray, Justice and Mrs.
Brewer, Justice and Mrs. Shiras, Justice and Mrs. White, Justice and Mrs. McKenna, the Attorney General and Mrs. Knox, Senator Hoar, Senator and Mrs. Platt (Conn.), Senator and Mrs. McCombs, Senator and Mrs. Depew, Senator and Mrs. Jenkins,

Henry L. Nelson, Mr. James Mac-Naughton, Mrs. Thelen R. Selmes, Mr. Regis H. Post and Mrs. Post and Col. and Mrs. Bingham.

Yesterday at the North Presbyterian Church, Miss Eleanor Ray, daughter of Mr. Alfred Ray, and Mr. James B.
Maughlin of Boyds, Md., were married by the pastor of the church, Dr. Ramey.
After the ceremony the couple left for a four weeks' southern tour, with a stay at Galveston, Texas, where the bride has relatives. The wedding was a simple one, numerous among them being a purse of gold from Mrs. Mary J. Maughlin, mother of the groom; a set of dining room furniture, from Mrs. Leslie Maughlin; a residence and a farm of 100 acres, from Mrs.
Jas. A. Boyd, aunt of the groom, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Maughlin will return to Boyds to live about March 1.

Mrs. Cullom resumed her Thursday receptions yesterday, and in greeting her numerous callers was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Ridgely, and her sister, Miss Fisher.

Mrs. Quay's reception yesterday was very large, so many old Washington friends calling to express their pleasure at her restored health and energy, as well as the senator's renewed vigor and continued enthusiasm here of the family. Mrs.
Mahone, widow of Senator Mahone, who is making Mrs. Mahone's home, was receiving, as were the Misses Quay.

Mrs. Alfred E. Bates was another of the hostesses of last evening, her guests at dinner being the Assistant Secretary of War and Mrs. Sawyer, General and Mrs.
Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. Merriam, Mr. and Mrs. Barney, Mrs. Selmes, Mr. Durham White Stevens and Major Biddle.
